Racine Christian Holds Book Fair

RCS students Kailey Smith and Annie Rhoads look at new books with Librarian Cindy Rote.

The students were excited to come to the library as Racine Christian School held its annual Book Fair. Flower leis formed a curtain at the door, and colorful books were cleverly displayed to catch their interest – science, animals, history, and more! Children eagerly chose new books for their families to buy.

A percentage of Book Fair sales is returned to the school for the purchase of more library books. Racine Christian will be able to invest $1,800 in new reading material this year.

Librarian Cindy Rote says, “Our Book Fair offers students a nice variety of books, so they are exposed to new authors and different topics. It’s a fun event, and the icing on the cake is that the children get really excited about books and reading. That is so important to successful learning.”

Racine Christian is located at 912 Virginia Street in Racine, at the corner of Ohio and Kinzie. Enrollment information is available from the school at 262/634-0961 or the web site at RacineChristianSchool.com.
